Image: Shutterstock Idea of a Spiritual Animal comes from the Indian tradition, although it is not common to all Native American faiths and cultures (as there are many and they are far from homogeneous). It has appeared throughout mythology and even pops up today in pop culture, such as in daemon, which is a manifestation of the soul of man in His dark material trilogy by Philip Pullman. Indeed, the idea of a patron in Harry Potter - a protective force that appears as an animal and correlates with the inner character of man - is a direct nod to the concept of a spiritual animal. How do you know what your spiritual animal is? It's not just an animal that you like, or with which you feel some kinship, because it has a gesture or feature that looks like you. It goes much deeper than that. A spiritual animal is a being that encounters the world as well as you are: who is as social or antisocial, scary or brave, playful or calm as you are. These are animal species whose platonic ideal will most likely choose how you do in any given situation. So let's find out which of the many souls in the animal world has managed to penetrate just a little bit of yourself into your body! After the Spirit of Animals quiz: Integrating Spirit Of Animals Teachings in your life After taking the Spirit of Animals quiz your awareness of the Spirit of Animals, Totems, and Power Animals grows. The discovery of any of these Creatures brings excitement and natural curiosity. The Spirit Animal Test has opened the door, but you probably have lingering questions. How exactly do you go about integrating energy and animal medicine guides into your daily life? First, understand how the Spirit of Animals, Totems, and Power Animals interact with you distinctly personal. Spiritual animals come on time to teach a lesson or help in particularly difficult situations. The totem is an animal that you were born with - you have a soul contract with this being and it will affect your life by giving you the advice of healing and support. The power of animals is one whose medicine and magic you call for help. Keep in mind that Power Animal can say no for any different reasons, but the key to all three of these scenarios is respect and acceptance. You enter into a relationship with the Spiritual Being, and that relationship is truly sacred. From the beginning, once you have taken the Spirit of The Animal quiz and feel in the right direction, there is no need to rush it. Think about when you meet someone for the first time. This same cautious, gentle approach works well for totem animals and guides too. Note. Listen more than you say. And stay vigilant. All of these allies can come in any number of forms from advertising to songs, product names and bumper stickers. The key is that animal provides a re-performance that you can't help but notice. If it's the same animal that came out of spirit animal trials - you have BINGO! One of the most common methods of integrating your animal companion into your life is daily meditation. Sit comfortably, breathe deeply and visualize the animal in as much detail as possible. Breathing is especially important because animals recognize the stress and nervousness that can interfere with your encounter. In your mind the offer is a sign of welcome and hospitality. The image you come up with can start moving or making noise or just sit and ass you. This is your first letter of introduction. Be patient. The more often you give time for mindful meditation (with intent), the better your communication and understanding becomes. Another important element to integrating your Animal Spirit and guidance is teaching yourself about this being in nature. What is his behavior? How does he communicate? How does he move and recognize others of its kind? This is Or communal? Knowing these elements about your companion Spirit improves ability to understand his messages and apply them in applicable circumstances. If you are unsure of the meaning of the message, go back to your resources and see if you find information that tells you: ha! After that. We also recommend, whenever possible, you go somewhere that you can see your Spirit of Totem or Power Animal in person. Many times you will find these physical beings react to you because they recognize your animal aura and energy. Spiritual Seekers often tell stories of a lion who continued to rub his head in front of them at the zoo and did not want to leave, for example. Or be out for a walk where your bird totem lands near your feet and sings you a song. These are special moments. Their treasures. Around your home and other spaces where you spend a lot of time, find ways to honor your animal spirit. Whether it's color, images, sacred stones and crystals that vibrate with animal energy, etc. there are so many utensils nowadays that depict animals - including plates, spoons, cups and glasses just to name a few. When you use these elements or look at them, take a moment to breathe in the vibrations of your Power Animal. Harmonize your aura with this energy and enjoy your day more and more! While it's great that you can take the Animal Spirit Test online in privacy, not all of us have an environment in which we can openly display or passion for a particular substance. If you are in this situation one simple resolution becomes the animal carving that you are wearing, or the decoration that depicts the animal (so that it literally stays in contact with your body). There are numerous outlets that provide different images and media so watch with a sensitive eye until you find one that really resonates with you. Then whenever your animal spirit comes to mind, touch the carvings or jewelry and reconnect. The music and sounds of nature can also prove to be a good ally in your quest to integrate your Animal Spirit more fully. Music is a powerful language that crosses barriers, including spiritual ones. There are all sorts of compact currents that have the sounds of nature, at least one of which can be the natural environment of your animal guide! Think about sleeping with this sound, and visiting your animal in the sleep area feeling like they do in their space. Another method used by shamans mimics their animals. After studying the movements of the creature (perhaps on the Nature channel), try to move in the same way as your animal. Breathe deeply into your primitive nature. Make sounds, scratches - anything that feels good. This method can be used in the ritual as a means of calling your friend animals too! It is extremely important that throughout all your adventures in getting to know your animal spirit and applying its lessons, you keep intent and awareness in your heart. Be specific. Be grateful. Remember that this relationship is with the two sides of the street. You should turn to your animal companion sometimes just to hang out and not get something. This assessment is an estimate your relationships and results. Last but not least, keep a log and go back and read it periodically. You will be able to see with your own eyes how your relationship with your animal spirit, totem or Power Animal grew every time you discovered your awareness in a new way. Way.
